A party of prominent people from Honolulu, Hawaiian islands, spent last night in Eugene on a motor trip down the coast. The personnel of the party is as follows: George Herbert, Mrs. Herbert, Miss Herbert, C. M. Herbert, S. M. Watson, Norwegian consul at Honolulu, Dr. R. W. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson and William Anderson. They are traveling in two cars which were shipped by water to Victoria on the steamship Niagara, on which the party traveled. They toured the island of Vancouver, have been to all the points of interest around Puget Sound and Portland, and are now on their way to California to visit the expositions, intending to make a side trip to Klamath county and Crater lake.

Dr. Herbert said last night that they were through here three years ago on an automobile trip. "I notice many improvements in the roads and in the cities through which we pass," he said. "It is merely a pleasure trip and the pleasure is made more so through with better roads."

Dr. Herbert said that business conditions on the islands seemed to be improving. There are now 10,000 soldiers there, but he expects that many of them will be withdrawn and transferred to the Mexican border if conditions do not improve down that way.

Complimentary Dance to Honolulu Visitors.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—One of the best attended dances of the summer season was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Abbott, near Angle Lake, one Saturday night recently complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gehring and their son Willie, from Honolulu. August Toellner acted as host on the occasion by courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott and though the dance lasted seven hours the time passed so quickly that the happy, congenial and contented crowd who were present that they could not realize its passage.

On the way to Angle Lake, by auto, David Zentmeyer had the stage set in his orchard for Mrs. Gehring and son Willie, who had never picked a ripe apple out of a tree, to pick some of the handsome "Early Transparents" right from the top limb where they were the most luscious, fragrant and fully developed.

A "country dance" was also one of the things that these people from the "Paradise of the Pacific" had not seen.

They were all there from that typical country section about Sunnydale and Angle Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly, the heads of the Kelly family, and W. W. Wilcox, the head of the Wilcox tribe, were there with kith and kin and the first set was the famous quadrille that will be long remembered as the battle of telephorcan art between these two neighboring peoples in that neck of the woods. To see Wilcox and Kelly swing their feet, and then the girl they left behind them, the marching through the various mazes of the grand right and left was a sight that made one wonder if it was not "young Bill" and "young Mike" of 40 years ago that came out of their Rip Van Winkle sleep. There were waltzes; there were two-steps and three-steps and music that could only be made on an occasion of this kind when the spirit of good nature permeated the atmosphere with good fellowship.

Dave Abbott played the fiddle, Eddie Wilcox tooted his cornet; Ray Wilcox blew his alto and Wayne Wilcox played the snare drum and big bass drum. Walter McKee played the accordion and other instruments. Baker Rambler, from South Park, acted as assistant to the dispenser, and handed out the sandwiches and other refreshments. Everybody danced and danced and danced and then danced some more.

The ladies had some dandy cakes there; others had chicken, and still others ingredients that would make a "city feller" green with envy and longing to have been among those present.

Everybody sang "The Wacht am Rhein," "A Long, Long Way to Tipperary" and complimentary to the visitors they joined in "Aloha Oe," the song of the Hawaiians.

While Gehring, the 14-year-old boy, presided at the piano and played some of the native music, including some of the hula hula dances. The seductive tone of this music was too much for one of the old Sons of the Soil present, and an imitation of that beautiful and rhythmic creation and gratification of the body as acted out by the Honolulu ladies was performed with such pleasing effect that the music and dancers were the recipients of several encores.

While the dance was a typical Puget Sound country dance, the visitors were profuse in their expressions of "resembling a hula" in the islands. The dance lasted until the wee sma' hours.

Miss Pearl Sutherland Home From Study Trip.

Miss Pearl Sutherland has recently returned from Berkeley, Cal., where she has been studying methods which apply in the teaching of music to children. She will have charge of school work at Punahou this year in the piano department. The personal instruction which she received from Ernest R. Kroeger School of Music in St. Louis was especially valuable and interesting. This prominent musical educator is especially in favor of teaching to children the fundamental elements and the general appreciation of music in class work, which is given in connection with their private instruction at the piano.

Miss Sutherland met many of the best musicians in Berkeley through the accompanying which she did for Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Wright, violinists of unusual merit, who have recently returned from several years of study in Europe.

Informal Dinner-Dance at the Outrigger Canoe Club.

Another one of the jolly informal get-together dinner-dances, that have been so popular with the younger set this summer took place on Thursday evening at the Hawaiian Outrigger Canoe Club. The dinner-dances are managed on the subscription plan, the girls taking the supper and the boys chipping in for the lights and music. The new dancing pavilion is going to be the favorite place for hops during the winter and it is predicted that there will be hardly an evening that the hall is not used. The electric piano which has recently been installed is a notable improvement, though the Hawaiian quartets still hold a place in the hearts of telephorians.

After a delightful swim in the surf, the guests sat down to a delicious spread, set at long tables beneath the hazy tree. At 8 o'clock they commenced dancing in the pavilion. Some among those present were Miss Margaret Hawk, Miss Dorothy Hawk, Miss Clemence Gifford, Miss Louise Girvin, Miss Katie Singlehurst, Miss Mildred Chapin, Miss Ynez Gibson, Miss Gertrude Ripley, Miss Rachel Woods, Miss Irma Woods, Miss Dorothy Winter, Miss Rhoda Ballentyne, Miss Ruth Stacker, Miss Miriam Stacker, Miss Jessie Baldwin, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Miss Sybil Carter, Ernest Mott-Smith, Ernest Podmore, John O'Dowd, John Gifford, Gray Zabriskie, Sam Carter, Frederick Carter, Lorrie Thurston, George Bromley, Shirley Bush, LeRoy Bush, David Wiedeman, Paul Desjardins, Albert Bush, Henry H. ### Many Officers in Service to Wed This Fall.

It looks very much as though all of the young and eligible officers in Uncle Sam's army and navy are to be married early in the fall, while there are a number of September weddings scheduled. From Washington, D. C., has come the word of the marriages of several of the popular young officers to belles in society at the capital. Some of them that will be of interest to local service folk were chronicled in a Washington paper:

"Washington society is deeply interested in the wedding of Miss Henrietta Fitch, daughter of the late Naval Constructor Henry T. Fitch, to Lieut. Stephen Clegg Rowan, U. S. A., which will take place at Mrs. Fitch's summer home at Bay Head, N. J. The ceremony will be performed at noon, September 11, in All Saints' church on the seashore, and will be followed by a breakfast. Many of the bride's friends and relatives from Washington and Detroit will go on for the wedding."

Miss Patsie Henry Married in Alaska.

The clever "Patsie" Henry, recognized as one of the most talented members of the Juvenile Bostonsians, has surprised her friends in Honolulu with letters telling of her marriage to Mr. Vincent M. Lerner, which took place in Alaska on June 3. When pretty "Patsie" was in Honolulu last year she told her friends of her engagement to a tall miner in Alaska, but she had hardly more than returned to the Northwest when she broke that engagement and "Mother" Lang felt sure that her clever comedienne would stay out of Cupid's way for a time. But it was quite evident that Mother Lang didn't know Patsie, nor Mr. Lerner, who was also with the Bostonsians.

After a performance on a wonderful Alaska night in June, Patsie and Mr. Lerner left the theater unaccompanied by "Mother," and the rest of the girls, and when, some time later, they returned to the hotel, it was with the word that they had been married. Their fate was that of all elopers—there was wrath, tears and then forgiveness and Patsie says she is the happiest girl in the world, and if Patsie says so it must be true.

N., came down from Jamestown and spent the week here, leaving yesterday for Old Point to join Lieut. Fitch, who is on the Yankton.

Patsie Henry is a great favorite in Honolulu and has many friends in the younger set here who, when the little actress was here, entertained her frequently.

Dance at the Plesasanton.

The management of the Plesasanton hotel has issued invitations for a dance, beginning at 8 o'clock next Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay, F. E. Gay and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. R. Ross of Honolulu, Mrs. C. Y. L. Spaulding of Santa Barbara, Mrs. B. T. Sandow of Oakland and Mr. C. D. Milliken of Hawaii were another automobile party arriving at Tahoe Springs the past week. —S. F. Examiner.

Mrs. Howard Spaulding is expected for Honolulu soon.

"How lovely it would be if some of the Honolulu girls would take a few lessons in dress and etiquette from Mrs. Howard Spaulding," was a remark heard from the lips of a Honolulu matron the other day. "It would be lovely" if the island girls would copy to some extent the simplicity and grace of Mrs. Howard Spaulding, the "White-collared" bride who is teaching a lesson in the homecoming in Honolulu.

Everywhere they have traveled, Mrs. Spaulding and her husband have been the center of attraction. Beautiful at first seen, mature in age, but with a youthful glow, she is a woman of quiet bearing and calm, dignified, and wise. Her dress is like a young woman who has devoted many hours to out-of-door sports. She is more than pretty, for her fresh complexion and deeply flushed cheeks are the very essence of good health.

But to return to her simplicity of dress—the thing that has interested feminine Honolulu. The other day when the young bride went to the fitting to witness a Hawaiian dance, she wore a suit of purple and a white shawl, and a black and white striped skirt, faced with white material. She wore no gloves and no jewelry to be seen were her wedding ring and the wedding band. Her enthusiasm and her good-looking young husband showed at the entrance of the islanders was a delight to every one who watched them.

The Spauldings will be in Honolulu a few more days, when they will go for the Orient, continuing their tour around the world. They have seen a good bit of the island of Oahu, and have expressed themselves as delighted with Hawaii, and the everywhere else acknowledged that it is the "Paradise of the Pacific."

Mr. and Mrs. Irving J. Hunt, family returned on the Ventura, have taken a cottage at the Plesasanton.

Dr. G. H. Huddy, a member of the Hawaiian legislature, and his bride arrived here today aboard the Shinyo Maru. Their marriage took place a few weeks ago. His wife formerly was Mrs. Etta Sullivan. —S. F. Call.
